PROJECT RECORDS FOR INTERIOR DESIGNERS

Keep changed choices from eating into your margin.

See what has been billed, what it has cost and what is left as the project moves, so a gap is visible before it becomes an invoice surprise.

1

See all billables, margin, profit, and more.

The project shows what has been billed, what it has cost and what is left, updated as the work moves. There is no spreadsheet to build and nothing to reconcile at the end.

2

Send the project's numbers to Excel.

The project's figures go to Excel when you want to review them the way your studio already works. The same numbers are not keyed twice.

3

Change once, anywhere. No repetitive work.

Change a selection and the budget moves with it, so the effect on the project is visible before it reaches an invoice.

Open one current project and look at its numbers.
